SUPERVISOR CONTEST EXCITING

Was the Hottest Political Scrap That Antioch Has Had in Some Time

WEBB WINS BY EIGHT VOTES

Tuesday's election proved to be just as exciting as the primary was quiet. At the primary there was only one candidate seeking the office of supervisor consequently there was no excitement. But when L. B. Grice filed his petition and entered the contest for election on the independent ticket politics began to sizzle, the race was on and each candidate and his supporters pulled every string within their reach.

Almost as soon as the polls opened Tuesday morning, workers for both contestants appeared on the street, autos hurried to and fro, and active work did not cease until the closing of the polls. When the ballots were counted it was found that a total of 712 people had cast their vote during the day.

In the first precinct the vote for supervisor stood as follows:

Total men's vote 259, Webb 129, Grice 130.

Total women's vote 184, Webb 69, Grice 115.

In this precinct Grice led by a majority of 47.

In the second precinct the vote for supervisor stood as follows:

Total men's vote 109, Webb 65, Grice 44.

In this precinct Webb led Grice by a majority of 65.

Thus while Webb was defeated by both men and women in the first precinct he won by both men and women in the second precinct by a majority sufficient to land him in the office of supervisor with a lead of eight votes over his opponent.

No one seemed particularly interested in the matter of electing a constable and very few votes were cast for that office. L. H. Feltar received 7, H. A. Feasas 1, and Jas. Wilton 1.

The special grave tax proposition carried by a majority of 132 in the first precinct, 148 men and 105 women voted against it, 22 men and 49 women did not vote on the proposition.

In the second precinct 159 votes were cast in its favor and 51 were against it.

Harry Radtke Writes Letter From France

France, March 6, 1919.

Dear Parents—

Received five letters yesterday, sorry to hear that you people have been sick but hope you will be better in a few days.

So Archie says he is coming home in February, well they are here not very far from us and I think they will be here for some time and I think they will stop here for some time and I don't think they have been in Germany but I think the 7th Division releases the 40th Division. They are in Coblenz, Germany and am quite sure we will be in the Army of Occupation. Bernies outfit is around here also. I have met a few fellows who live in Waukegan that I came to the army with. I sure was glad to see them. I have not looked up any Antioch fellows for I have been busy playing half the time and bartering the rest.

I went on a trip to Toul Monday to the 7th Division horse show. We had about five bands there from different regiments.

We are living in a French resident. It must have been a very good house before the war for it about four stories with five places and big mirrors in each room.

I understand things in the states are high but sausage that we bought in the states for 15 cents, we are paying $1.40 a pound, eggs are $1.20 a dozen. We are wearing our service stripes for six months. I suppose we will be wearing another before homeward bound but hope not while in Paris. I saw many soldiers wearing three.

We are having lots of fun here. Some of the band fellows found stiff hats which they cut down also German belts, caps and canes. A few of the band boys, that is the orchestra, goes on with a show. A few on furlough so I imagine we will not have so much playing.

I heard some say tonight that we will be home in June. I think we will be home in July. That suite will be mounted on a horse. I like to see a horse would be a fine one.

We go up to Coblenz or Luxembourg probably will be home in July sometime because in the Stars and Stripes paper the other day stated all the Divisions booked to go home up to July and the 7th Division was not even on.

I am feeling fairly good and weigh 172 pounds, have gained a little since we left Meuse. Well its about bed time so will close hoping to hear from you soon. Your loving son, Musician Harry M. Radtke, 79th F. A. Band, A. E. F.

Clay Bird Shoot to be Held Sunday, April 6

Antioch team vs. Long Lake team, 500 shots, at 1:30 Sunday April 6, at Ben Van Duzer's, north east of town. The lineup is as follows:

Antioch—Harry Snodgrass, Mrs. Snodgrass, Earl Hertton, Ben Van Duzer, Wm. Belter.

Long Lake—Jay Graham, Ed. Graham, Tom Graham, Pat Graham, Wm. Jackson.

This event should prove of interest to the entire community, with such a lineup from Long Lake as well as our local team.

Last Sunday's shoot was very close, Horton and VanDuzer winning out by the small majority of four targets out of 100 shots.

Trap shooting is fast becoming an interesting sport in Antioch. The meeting held in the village hall last Monday evening was quite well attended. Graham brothers were on hand to help the cause along. Another meeting will be held in the near future for the purpose of organizing a real gun club. A club of this kind would be quite a drawing card for this village and those most interested hope to make a success of the undertaking. We understand the Graham boys will offer a cup to be shot for in the near future.

DROWNING AT LONG LAKE THURSDAY

Boat Capsized and Occupants
Were Pitched Into Water
Over 300 Ft. From Shore

BODY RECOVERED SUNDAY

The first drowning of the season came early in the year of 1919 when A. E. Boien of Chicago met death in the waters of Long Lake last Thursday.

Boien with his brother Charles also of Chicago had gone to Long Lake Thursday afternoon for the purpose of looking over some lots which they owned on the lake. Taking a boat they put off from shore and when about 125 yards from shore they decided to change seats, both stood up and the inevitable happened. The boat capsized and both men were pitched into the water. Charles could swim a very little and catching hold of the boat he managed to get to shore, but his brother knew nothing of swimming and falling to get hold of the boat as it tipped he sank in the icy water.

The frantic shouting of Charles soon aroused the neighbors who rushed to the scene but were unable to render assistance, as the drowning man had already sunk from eight feet beneath the icy water.

A diligent search for the body was begun but it was not until Sunday afternoon that it was recovered. It was located in about twenty-five feet of water, and was raised by the use of a crane.

Ceremonies were notified and the inquest was held Sunday afternoon, the jury returning a verdict of accidental drowning.

The victim of the accident was unmarried. The two brothers had planned the trip together and were to have spent a few days with their cousin at the lake and thus combine pleasure with business, but fate intervened and the trip was far from one of pleasure for within an hour from the time they arrived one was dead and the other was almost bereft of his reason.

Senate Committee Reports on Shurtleff Resolution

The senate, after a battle at Springfield reported back with a favorable recommendation the Shurtleff resolution for an investigation of the Zion City church and its overseer.

The resolution came to the committee some time ago but action was not taken. Representative Edward D. Shurtleff is understood to have forced a senate action.

The senate executive committee increased the number of members of the Voliva investigation committee from nine to ten to permit the appointment of five senators.

Voliva's attorney appeared before the committee to protest against the resolution. They intimidated Representative Shurtleff in making a personal fight against the church and Voliva. The committee met behind closed doors.

Injunction Issued Against Supreme Court of Honor

A temporary injunction has been issued at Springfield against the Supreme Court of Honor and its officers, restraining them from expelling any member and district court which have opposed the recent increase in rates. Several courts had begun proceedings to prevent the collection of the higher premiums, and it is claimed that they have been summoned by the officials of the order to show cause why they should not be expelled for this sanction. The Court of Honor is enjoined against taking any steps against these members which will impede their standing until the whole matter of the increase in rates has been passed upon by the courts.

Relic Quercy Preserved.

A steel ladle seven inches long, supposed to have been used by Indians in melting lead for bullets many years ago, was found imbedded in the heart of a red oak tree snawed up for firewood at South Allgona, Pa. Rings on the tree indicate it was more than one hundred years old. The ladle, made of the finest charcoal steel, is believed to have been driven into the tree when it was a sapling.

Staving Off Old Age.

Among many other extraordinary plans for prolonging one's stay on this interesting planet may be mentioned that of a South African farmer who advised people to eat every day four pounds of bananas steeped in sweetened whisky, and that of a professor in the University of Pennsylvania who believed that much could be done in the way of staving off old age by frequently having one's feet tickled.

Pearl Fishers Barred From Fox River For Till

The annual hunt for pearls in the Fox river will not begin this year until July 16. Under an order issued by Ralph F. Bradford, chief game and fish warden, and Charles Adkins, director of agriculture, musseled fishing or clamming is prohibited until that date. Adam Clow of Wheatland, district warden was notified of the order.

Fox river was set aside as a state fish preserve under the law which went into effect July 1, 1915, establishing preserves in various streams throughout the state. The intent of the law is to preserve fish resources of the state and by the establishment of preserves the natural conditions necessary to the spawning and development of the finny tribe are preserved.

The dragging of streams in the taking of mussels or fresh water clams has a tendency to destroy the nests and interfere with their spawning. In order to protect the fish in the spawning season the state has issued the order prohibiting clamming until July 16. Fish and game wardens of the district have been notified to arrest and prosecute all violators of the order.

Each year the government deposits hundreds of thousands of game fish in the Fox river. In the past years complaint has been made that professional clambers have destroyed the nests of these fish. The order now in effect will protect the fish until after the spawning season.

Pearls valued at thousands of dollars have been found in clams taken from the bed of the Fox river, but the warden says that the pearl hunter, be able to find the stones after July 16, as well as during the fish spawning season.

HE TURNED TO SEE CATCH FISH MOVED WHILE

Probably the Accidents Indicated Had Not Been Introduced in Evidence in the Case.

Lou Guernsey was defending one party to an auto collision and was cross-examining a lady witness who was undeniably pretty.
"Have you any idea what caused this accident?" thundered Lou.
"I think so," said the fair witness sweetly.
"Then tell the court how it happened," thundered Lou eager for facts.
"Must I tell the truth?"
"Well, sir, I was standing on the corner, and that gentleman turned to look at something and ran into the other machine."
"Ah," divided the astute Guernsey.
"He turned to look at you. That makes you an accessory before the fact, my dear."

Remarkable Fish Not of Much Value as Food, but It Was Not Total Loss.
"Talk about fishing," says the old colonel, "have hooked all kinds, but never until last Tuesday did I hook one of the old settlers—one of the critters that helped to stake out the lake. Alas, he wasn't game! He ran under the boat, turned flip-flops and went through all of the stunts of the fish race. Well, after about two and one-half hours I landed him. He was about four feet eight inches long and weighed 28 pounds and three ounces. Took him right over to the point below him to the boys, and we decided to hold a little banquet the next night and eat the old cuss up. Well, we sat down to table and I started carving up that fish, do you know what? Anywhere I cut I struck right to a fish hook. He'd been hooked everybody, and had swallowed a hook. That fish was just plumb out of luck. I whittled and hunched away for a time, but finally gave up for a bad job."

GIRL ESCAPES FROM BANDITS

Was Held for Ransom by Smugglers on a Lonely Island.

CAPTIVE FOR 12 YEARS

Distress Signal Answered by Small Fishing Vessel Off Texas Coast—Succeeded in Reaching Mainland.

Rockport, Tex.—Being kept on a lonely island for more than twelve years by a gang of bandits or smugglers, who hoped to secure a large ransom from relatives for her release, and only making her escape through an act of fate, is the remarkable experience of a young woman just budding into womanhood who has arrived at Rockport, Tex. The young girl knows nothing of herself or relatives other than she answered to the name of "Nellie" for several years.

"Nellie" came to the mainland from one of the five small islands lying five miles off the coast, in a small fishing vessel which saw her signal of distress. She had been on the island alone for two days following the death of an old negro woman who constantly guarded her.

Lived in House Made of Rocks.
The girl said the greater part of the time she was on the island she lived with the negro woman in a house made of rocks. "Nellie" declared her old jailer never beat her but once, and that was when she asked if there were other bearded men and black women on ships which sometimes passed in sight, and why they could not go away to some other house on one of the ships.

According to the strange story related by the girl, the bandits contemplated taking her to South America, where she said they could get lots of money for her. "Nellie" said the men had a large sailing boat. The bandits never sailed toward the Texas coast, she said.

The Strange Man Was Carried Away Dead.

said, but went down the bay in the direction of Mexico. At one time, long ago, when she was but a little girl, the bandits brought another man to the island, she said. "Nellie" can remember them drinking and singing and playing cards. The next day, she said, the strange man was carried away dead.

Will Explore Islands.
"Nellie" is a pretty girl. Her hair is brown, and her bright, snappy eyes are hazel. From her general appearance the people of Rockport believe she must be of Spanish descent.
A party has been organized to explore the rock house on the island and to trap the bandits, with a view of forcing them to tell something of the little girl, that she may be returned to her parents or relatives.

CLIPS OFF WOMAN'S HAIR

But Intruder Leaves Tresses Behind—Also Steals $20 Without Waking Couple.

Passaic, N. J.—Mrs. William Hawthorne, forty years old, of 422 Harrison street, reported to the police that during the night a thief had entered her bedroom and clipped off her long, golden hair. So quietly did the thief go about his work that he not only did not arouse Mrs. Hawthorne, but was not heard by her husband, in an adjoining room, nor by two children in another room near by.

The police found marks which indicated that the thief had used a jimmy on the kitchen window. They also found a pair of scissors. Mrs. Hawthorne said she believed she had been chloroformed, as when she awoke she felt sick. The thief also took $20 which was in a tin box, but evidently he had no use for the hair after clipping it, as it was found alongside the empty money box by Mrs. Hawthorne.

"Yes, I tried it, but I went back to Royal."

This is the experience of most women who have been tempted to try so-called cheaper baking powders which almost always contain alum and often leave a bitter taste.

The Little Breakfast Coat.
A popular type of negligee introduced last spring and that is enjoying a renewed lease of life is the little breakfast coat made of crisp tulle or of dotted swiss, figured cotton voile, and similar washable fabrics, if some-thing less expensive than silk is desired. These coats are all made pretty much alike, with long, straight jackets reaching to the hips or thereabouts to which is attached a skirt reaching half way between ankles and knees. Mockings of self fabric frequently finish the garment all around and the silk models are often trimmed in narrow silk fringe.
